109 CANADIANS DIE IN HOLIDAY MISHAPS

Death Toll in B.C. Reaches 12

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Holiday mishaps claimed the lives of 109 Canadians during the Dominion Day holiday weekend—the worst weekend toll in Canadian history.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. local times Friday to midnight Tuesday counted 51 dead in traffic and 50 drownings. Eight died in other accidents ranging from a plane crash in New Brunswick to a British Columbia mountain fall.

The highway toll exceeded the Canadian Safety Council's estimate of 45 deaths. Last year, in a three-day holiday, 88 died, including 54 in traffic and 31 drownings.

In other holiday mishaps, Mrs. Vivian Mabel Wood, 54, of North Vancouver was killed when she slipped from a snow-covered trail on Sentinel Glacier, 50 miles north of Vancouver. Word of the accident did not reach Squamish police until Monday morning. Mrs. Wood had been hiking with a group from the Canadian Youth Hostel Association.

Hubert Berr of Vancouver was believed drowned in Chilliwack River after he disappeared while on a picnic with his family. RCMP and troops from Chilliwack army camp are dragging the river.

Nathaniel Robert Wright, 24, Dunsmuir, died Sunday of internal injuries a few hours after he fell from a moving truck on the Chilcotin road, 22 miles west of Williams Lake.

Mrs. Rosa Andrews, about 62, and Russell Vince, 40, of Coquitlam drowned after a small cabin cruiser they were riding in overturned in Burrard inlet Sunday.

Others killed in holiday accidents were: Diane Cochrane, 9, of Vancouver, traffic accident; Herbert Holloway, 3, of Hanna, Alta., drowned near Campbell River; Mrs. Wah Lee, 66, Victoria, traffic accident; William Crossley, 78, Abbotsford, Williams Lake, traffic accident; James Tyson, 38, and his son, James, 12, of Vancouver, died Sunday of a head-on collision on a road tributary to the Hart Highway near Lytton.

The death of a woman from Crescent Lake, 30 miles north-west of Prince George, brought the holiday weekend death toll in B.C. to 12.

Mrs. Gus Krausz died in hospital Monday from injuries she was believed to have suffered in a head-on collision on a road tributary to the Hart Highway near Lytton.

Diefenbakers Miss Injury in Mishap

SASKATOON (CP) — As an RCAF band broke into O Canada, four skittish Clydesdales plunged ahead and narrowly missed injuring Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker at a ceremony here yesterday.

The open door of a landau, from which the couple had just alighted, caught Mrs. Diefenbaker and threw her against her husband. Both were swept forward several feet before the driver reined in the frightened horses.

The Diefenbakers merely brushed themselves off and stood erect while the band from RCAF station Saskatoon finished playing O Canada.

The occasion was the opening at the Western Development Museum Grounds of Pion-Era, a five-day show which re-enacts the pioneer days of the province.

Only a few persons in the crowd of 8,000 noticed the incident.

NO MENTION

The prime minister, who left later by plane for Ottawa, spoke a few minutes later but did not mention it.

The incident occurred while the prime minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker were on the track separating the grandstand platform.

They had left the museum in an ancient landau drawn by a four-horse team. The landau stepped in front of the grandstand and the Diefenbakers were thrown.

Then the air force band began to play O Canada. The horses, apparently startled by the sudden outburst of music, reared and then plunged forward.

NO COMMOTION

Nobody moved while continued playing.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said the Pion-Era is an event "worthy of Canada" and an event which "gives to young men and women the greatness of our past as we hand to them the destiny of our future."

Starr Backs New Proposal In Ship Strike

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Starr said today he will recommend to discontinue the west coast seamen's strike that they agree to resumption of steamship service accompanied by arbitration.

He told the Commons he has received such a suggestion from Eric Taylor of Toronto, the labor department's inquiry commissioner in the dispute that has tied up Canadian Pacific Steamship Company's coastal vessels.

No Leads To Valley Bombing

(See story on page 7)

KELOWNA — RCMP here are continuing investigations in connection with the weekend bombings of Okanagan hotels, a ferry and power lines, but so far no evidence of the perpetrators has been unearthed.

Staff Sgt. W. B. Irving of Kelowna Detachment RCMP said police have quizzed "literally hundreds" of Doukhobor residents throughout the Valley, but all leads so far have proved fruitless.

A suspect, arrested Sunday, was released this morning. No further arrests have been made.

The investigation was touched off Sunday when a bomb exploded in Kelowna's Willow Inn Hotel.

Two other bombs were found in the men's washrooms of the Allison Hotel at Vernon and one of the Kelowna-Westbank ferries. A fourth smashed a power pole near Armstrong, about 20 miles north of Vernon.

With the visit of Princess Margaret to the Okanagan less than three weeks away, officers were posted at strategic points; roadblocks were set up and floodlights were erected at schools, public buildings, bridge structures in the mountainous region.

SPECIAL WATCH

Special watch was kept on the Okanagan Lake bridge during the princess will declare open during her visit.

Police checked driver's licenses and search cars for dynamite at many points both in the Kootenays and in the Okanagan. They also patrolled railway tracks and power lines; both targets for frequent terrorist bomb outrages.

Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, long linked with arson and bombings, have welcomed the increased police action.

"They are listing every Doukhobor car that moves—so proof exists that we are home when the bombs blow," said Bill Mooljensky of Shoreacres, spokesman for the turbulent Freedomite sect, who has blamed the outrages on enemies seeking to discredit the Sons.

Meanwhile the $25,000 reward posted by the B.C. government for arrest of those responsible for recent outrages remains without claimants.

$500,000 Fire Hits Industrial Area at Coast

VANCOUVER (CP) — A $500,000 industrial fire destroyed the offices and warehouse of the E. L. Sauder Lumber Company Limited Tuesday night.

H. A. Sauder, secretary-treasurer of the company, estimated the loss of lumber and other contents at $400,000 and the three-story building at $100,000.

Considerable other damage was caused as sparks showered an extensive area.

TODAY'S BULLETINS

Claims No Evidence Against Firm

VANCOUVER — A defence lawyer declared today that there is no evidence against his client — the big B.C. Forest Products Limited timber concern — in the Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial. Douglas McK. Brown was arguing for dismissal of conspiracy and bribery charges against the firm. He said it was not a matter of reasonable doubt — "what I am concerned about is the total lack of evidence."

Rebels May Launch Strong Attack

BEIRUT, Lebanon — (AP) — President Camille Chamoun says Lebanese rebels under Syrian command may launch a strong attack on the northern port of Tripoli at any moment. But if this attack and one from the area southeast of Beirut are "beaten completely, the armed rebellion will collapse as a military movement," the pro-Western president said.

Foreign Aid Cut by $135 Millions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House of Representatives ignored a last-minute plea from President Eisenhower today and tentatively voted a $135,000,000 cut in defence support funds in the foreign aid program. The test vote was on an amendment to restore $75,000,000 of the $135,000,000 cut made by the House appropriations committee. The amendment was lost 120-97.

EDWARD CANNON

HAROLD KRISTJANSON

TWO OF THREE Canadians captured by Cuban rebels are Edward Cannon of Cornwall, Ontario, and Harold J. Kristjanson of Geraldton, Ont. They are among 11 Canadians and Americans held by rebel forces. It is believed the kidnapping is a protest against the action of a U.S. naval base in Cuba in providing Cuban army planes with gasoline to bomb rebel mountain hideouts.

Consuls Negotiate With Kidnappers

HAVANA (AP) — The commander of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay said today he expects news Thursday about 46 Americans and three Canadians kidnapped by rebels in the mountains of eastern Cuba. Rear Admiral R. S. B. Child said he based his lunch on the time elapsed since two U.S. consuls set out into the mountains to seek the release of the missing servicemen and civilians.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The state department disclosed today that two U.S. consuls are in direct touch with rebel forces in Cuba and have sent cryptic messages about their negotiations for the release of kidnapped Americans and Canadians.

As for the captives, press officer Lincoln White said there is "no indication of the death of any of these people or of any injury to them."

Rebel leaders have taken more than 40 U.S. citizens and three Canadians as hostages in the last few days.

President Eisenhower told a press conference he was not disposed to do anything reckless to free the captives because the important thing is to get them out alive. At the same time the president described as not true a report in Havana that the consular negotiators themselves may have been seized.

Park Welles, consul at Santiago, was reported to have entered the back country around Guantanamo Bay Sunday to seek release of 30 servicemen from the U.S. naval station at Guantanamo.

The rebels also are holding two American managers of a nickel plant; two sugar mill executives, and four American agricultural experts for United Fruit Company.

The Canadian Embassy also was seeking the release of the three Canadians. They are engineers Harold G. Kristjanson, 37, of Geraldton, Ont., and Edward Cannon, 50, of Cornwall, Ont., and Richard Sargent, about 50, of Toronto, a sugar mill executive.

SPECIAL PATROLS

More than 100 North American families live in the Guantanamo Bay area. Roads there are being patrolled and curfews enforced in an effort to prevent further kidnappings.

Chief Soviet delegate A. K. Fyodorov opened today's discussion. He will alternate as chairman with Dr. James Fisk, a scientific adviser to President Eisenhower.

Asked whether an agenda had been discussed, Canadian delegate Dr. O. M. Solandt said: "Well, we have been getting down to it, but we are still sparing for position."

A conference spokesman said there was no particular reason for the break of one day in the talks. He pointed out the conference was of a highly technical nature and could not be expected to work day after day without a break for a review of past work.

Canada Interested In Removing Curbs On Russian Trade

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada is interested in any possible lifting of restrictions on Western trade with Russia and its satellites.

The Canadian government's stand on these restrictions, officials said today, has long been that their only reason is for security.

If restrictions on various items were not necessary for security purposes, then Canada always pressed for removal of them.

ACCUSES PROBES OF HYPOCRISY

Gift-Giving Goldfine Calls Charges 'Lies'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lawyer for Bernard Goldfine said today Goldfine charged off as a business expense hotel bills paid for Sherman Adams and the cost of an expensive oriental rug that Adams has testified was a loan.

Attorney Roger Robb gave this account after a House of Representatives hearing at which Goldfine read a statement denying there was anything out of line in his relationship with Adams, No. 1 aide to President Eisenhower.

In the statement, Goldfine did not go into the business expense question which some House subcommittee members say can be the most important matter of evidence in their inquiry into relations between Goldfine and Adams.

CALLS CHARGES LIES

He branded as lies charges that he got favored federal treatment through Adams, a long-time friend.

Goldfine accused investigators from the House of Representatives of hypocrisy and of using him as a "handy stick...to hit someone else over the head with" — meaning Adams.

He pictured fellow Boston millionaire John Fox, his principal accuser, as a sick man who has told many lies "and will tell many more, I am sure."

Goldfine spoke in testimony prepared for his appearance before the House subcommittee whose hearings have set off a political storm. He said he was "dumbfounded" that his gifts hurt people in high places.

EXPECT STIFF GRILLING

Subcommittee chairman Owen Harris (Dem., Ark.) and other subcommittee members served notice the 67-year-old Goldfine was in for stiff grilling, under oath.

Adams was on the subcommittee stand two weeks ago. He acknowledged Goldfine paid hotel bills for him over the years, gave him a coat and use of an oriental rug. But Adams swore that, in talking to federal agencies about Goldfine problems, he pulled no wires to help his benefactor.

A contrasting picture was painted by Fox for three days ended Monday. Fox saw Goldfine as a doddering old man, a coddled by Washington bureaucrats while high administration forces turned on pressure that collapsed Fox's newspaper, the Boston Post, in 1956.

House investigators wanted particularly to know whether Goldfine charged off his favors to Adams as business expenses for income tax purposes. Their advance information was that Goldfine did.

Naramata Boy Wins Award For Best Car

Brian Hancock of Naramata entered the best-designed car in the Western Canada Soap Box Derby at Mission City Tuesday.

He won the Toledo Soles trophy, one of the top construction awards, with his entry which was among 187 cars inspected by nine judges working in three teams.

Brian carved the body of his car from a single log. It took him nearly a year.

With a record number of cars entered, judges for construction awards had their most difficult task in the 11-year-old history of the event.

They praised the boys and their coaches after describing the quality of workmanship "extremely high in every department."

Winners of other awards were: Best construction, Victor Knight, Vancouver; brakes and steering, Tommy Polton, Vernon; upholstery, Tommy Polton; best paint job, Lloyd Campbell, Prince George.

The winner was David Woodley of Chemainus who edged out Jimmy Stevens of Fort Alberni by inches in the final.

Drivers Lauded For Holiday Safety

Penticton police today complimented motorists in Penticton — residents and visitors — for careful driving over the Dominion Day holiday.

Although traffic was at times heavy on Highway 97 no serious accidents were reported. "It was a nice, quiet holiday," a grateful police officer told the Herald.

With water temperature ideal for bathing, both Okanagan and Skaha Lake beaches were crowded.

Many families, in lazy holiday mood, "made a day of it" on the beach.

With Dominion Day falling this year on Tuesday, many visitors came to the Peach City for the day rather than on a long weekend.

Penticton hotels and motels, however, reported a busy weekend.

"No vacancy" signs were displayed at motels fronting Okanagan and Skaha Lakes.

Crowded Classes Problem Discussed

Miss Jean Norris and Mrs. J. Puddy represented the local Teachers' Association at a meeting of the Primary-Jermyn Avenue PTA executive, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Flitton.

Purpose of the meeting was to discuss the problems of overcrowded classrooms in the primary and elementary schools.

Mrs. Puddy and Miss Norris pointed out the difficulties in adequately instructing the children, especially in the primary grades, where they have to adjust as well as learn all new subjects. With the enrollment date changing from Oct. 31 to Dec. 31 they will be more crowded than ever this year.

It was pointed out that although the new Green Avenue school is a big addition, it will still only take one child from each existing classroom.

After considerable discussion and examination of the figures of the growth in enrollments during the past years it was decided that after the results of the fall enrollment, the PTA would like to meet with the school board because it is very interested in discussing the problem and trying to help in any way.

After the meeting was over, the teachers' association will be holding a picnic at the school grounds.

While the fruit being delivered is of excellent size and quality and while the growers' estimates are slightly lower, it is expected the larger sizes will bring the crop up to that of last year.

APRICOT PICKING STARTS AT OLIVER; GOOD SIZES

Delivery of apricots to Oliver packinghouses began during the weekend.

This is believed to be the earliest date on record on which apricots has begun.

The fruit being delivered is of excellent size and quality and while the growers' estimates are slightly lower, it is expected the larger sizes will bring the crop up to that of last year.

10,000 See Cherry Carnival Parade

OSOYOOS — An estimated 10,000 persons witnessed the Osoyoos Centennial Cherry Carnival parade, finest ever staged here, and highlight of the gala weekend celebrations.

It took 32 minutes to pass a given point and had nearly 80 entries from as far away as Vancouver, Grand Forks, Kelowna and many other Canadian points plus an excellent representation from U.S. communities such as Oroville, Tonasket and Curlew Airforce base.

The Vancouver Junior Band with its bright music and excellent marching was a great favorite in the parade and later on the grounds.

The Curlew Drill Team (U.S. Airforce) also put on a marching exhibition.

The torchlight boat parade and fireworks display proved to be very spectacular and crowd pleasing, while the Osoyoos Historical exhibits proved to be the finest ever shown in this area. Many thought this display surpassed the travelling B.C. Centennial Historical Van. Also shown in the building was an excellent collection of mounted wild life, including the life story from egg to adult of the Red Tailed Hawk.

Gordon Beggs, convener for the Summerland Rotary Club reports that at the end of June last year 187 were registered while at the same time this year over 300 have signed to take the classes. It is thought that those learning to swim will exceed the 350 figure of last year.

Lessons will be given every day from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. and not on Saturday unless registrations climb higher.

An extra pier has been added to the beach and general improvements made with over 20 loads of sand set down.

Two Buses to Bring Keremeos Children To See Princess

KEREMEOS — At a meeting of the board of trustees of School District 16, the board was in favour of supplying the two available buses for transporting pupils to Penticton to join with children of that city in seeing Princess Margaret during her visit there.

F. C. McCague will be in charge of arrangements for conveying the children to Penticton. Twenty-three applications were received by the board for the position on the janitor staff of Similkameen High and Keremeos Elementary Schools. After careful consideration, the board appointed A. F. A. Yung to the permanent staff, subject to his obtaining a Class A, chauffeur's license.

Following the annual meeting, the new board named V. E. Ellison president; Capt. E. A. Titchmarsh, vice-president; and K. W. Kinnard, secretary-treasurer, also continuing as manager.

Boat Driver Fined

A Vancouver youth paid a $10 fine and $3 costs in Penticton court for operating a power boat in a dangerous manner.

John Braun, 20, of 566 East 33rd Avenue, Vancouver was towing a water skier on Skaha Lake when he was seen to "zip back and forth between the marker buoys," court was told.

Police emphasized that boat operators must keep outside the buoys primarily because of danger to bathers.

It was the first prosecution in Penticton this year under Section 74 of the Small Vessel Regulations to the Canada Shipping Act.

Over 400 Attend Grey Sage Museum Opening

OLIVER — Upwards of four hundred people took part in the opening ceremonies of the Grey Sage Museum Sunday evening.

The museum, opening phase of a project long considered by Carlton MacNaughton of Oliver, is situated on highway 97, one mile south of Okanagan Falls.

NATURAL CONDITIONS

Mr. MacNaughton's object is to provide a place where the wild life of the Okanagan both flora and fauna can be kept in captivity under natural conditions.

Rev. A. C. Mackie, of Vernon, a long-time companion of Mr. MacNaughton's in the pursuit and destruction of rattlesnakes dedicated the chapel "To the glory of God, the honor of St. Francis and to the spiritual rest of those who use it."

Prior to the dedication Frank MacDonald of Oliver introduced Frank Richter Jr. who represented his father, the MLA and H. "Butch" Tyler, provincial game warden, each of whom commended Mr. MacNaughton and outlined the benefits of this museum both to residents and to visitors to the district.

W. Read, president of the Okanagan Falls Board of Trade, expressed his pleasure and pride at having this wild life sanctuary within the district he represented.

ANIMALS POPULAR

Animals in the museum are happily installed in their new homes. During the evening of the opening two young beaver arrived to occupy the pond.

The snake pit and the wishing well both attracted plenty of attention, but the young coyotes, the pet skunks, the geese, squirrels, martins, owls and the porcupine were also very popular.

Game Warden Tyler pointed out that although many people object to seeing wild animals confined in cages, in actual fact they are usually better off when cared for in this way. He said the advantages of teaching young people to recognize and appreciate wild animals should make them less inclined to destroy wild life.

Mr. MacNaughton thanked all those who had given assistance, especially the Lehman family of Bridesville who had helped him procure many of the animals.

He explained that non-denominational services will be held each Sunday morning in the chapel at 9 a.m. at which all would be welcome.

The Double Life We Live Cannot Bring Leisure

Why is it that with ever shortening hours of work for most people the tension of daily life seems to increase? Years ago, when our trade union movement was in its infancy and striving to break an unfair advantage held by lordly employers, one of the great prizes dangled before the eyes of the workingman was the shorter working day. Greater leisure, they told us then, would give us all more time to enjoy life. More time to enjoy life would bring longer life and more relaxed outlook to all humanity.

But, somewhere along the line, our leaders in this field lost control of the situation. They brought us shorter working hours, but they did not bring us longer lives, and, if we are honest, they have not brought us greater leisure.

A great portion of the working class today is working longer hours than it ever worked, and under far greater tension than those suffered by their fathers.

Moon-lighting is the modern name for the situation. Double lives might be a more apt description.

The milkman finds it necessary to take a job in a service station in the evenings, the millworker takes a job offering a few hours work in the woods on his day off, the store clerk helps a decorator in his spare time.

Why do people take on these tasks? The trend is supposed to be towards even greater leisure.

There was a time when man worked much longer hours for the one employer. But he worked at a steadier pace and with fewer distractions.

There was a time, too, when women looked after their families, their sole object in life to provide a solid home foundation for their children and as much home comfort as possible for their men.

Today we find many married women working at part time jobs, striving to lift their family income into a higher bracket while neglecting both their children and their husbands, thus introducing one of the greatest burdens society ever had to bear.

Labor leaders point with pride to their past accomplishments, and we must admit that they have been enormous. But have they achieved what they set out to do? We think not.

It may be true that we live better lives than our fathers lived in many ways. But it is also true that the pressures of life today were unknown 50 years ago.

While we live our good modern life we find that we have also moved into an era of constant, and seemingly never ending striving, for the very goal we once sought to deny. Leisure we sought, but leisure to enjoy life we did not find.

For many years man has been looking for the perfect design for living. We suppose the search will continue until man at last realizes that leisure, or at least more leisurely living, cannot be purchased with husbands and wives working or with husbands struggling with two jobs.

Leisurely living comes with a leisurely mind. Not a lazy mind, but a mind that is free from tension and strife. Our fathers, for all their problems, seemed to possess that relaxed approach to life. We suggest that until we once more discover that missing ingredient for happiness the present restless striving of the world will continue. And we shall never find it in a double life.

Just Scissors and a Ribbon

If a pair of golden scissors were handed to Princess Margaret as she stepped from the plane at Penticton airport on July 18, and if a golden ribbon was stretched across Green Avenue opposite the school, would there be any objection to a royal snip from the car carrying her to declare the new school open?

It has been one of our sources of local grief that Her Royal Highness could not find time to open the school due to carry her name. No time was the answer given to our requests, and we accepted that answer, not wishing to place any additional burdens on our visitor.

But if we could streamline the official opening, eliminating all speech-making, all ceremony, would it still be impossible for Princess Margaret to perform the honors?

It would, we think, be the first time in history that a school has been opened without a speech and from a slowly moving car. The absence of speeches and all the usual fol-de-rols would give us extra cause to make our royal cheers louder than ever.

The idea is simple, possibly too simple, but we think it worth a thought.

If the suggestion is too simple, why not gather outside the school the dignitaries the princess is supposed to meet at the airport and make time in that five minute break for a quick snip and a smile.

One way or the other we ought to be able to make the Princess Margaret school opening a part of the princess' visit to Penticton.

To Avoid Ivy Poisoning Remember This Slogan

By Herman N. Brundesen, M.D.
"Leaflets three, let it be."
You might do well to remember this very old and simple little rhyme this summer. For poison ivy can spoil many a happy outing and even entire vacations.

AVOID PLANT
The only sure way to prevent an attack of poison ivy is to avoid the villainous plant, if that is at all possible. That's where this little rhyme comes in.

The most significant feature about the poison ivy plant is that its leaves grow in clusters of three. These leaves are green in the summer, but generally turn brown, yellow or red in the late summer or fall. The leaves are slightly notched and from one to four inches long.

WHITE FRUIT
Another distinguishing feature is that the berry-like fruit is white, whereas the berries of the harmless ivy plants are blackish purple.

Poison ivy is an attractive plant; you might even say it is beautiful. And because of this, it is more likely to attract than to repel. But remember: "Leaflets three, let it be."

DIRECT CONTACT
Most cases of poison ivy result from direct contact with the plant, although you can contract it by handling clothing, pets and garden implements contaminated by the oily sap.

It is this non-volatile oil secreted on the leaves which causes the trouble.

First symptom is a burning and itching sensation. Then a rash and swelling develop, usually accompanied by small or large blisters.

While this poison is most potent during the summer, you might get a case of poison ivy even during the winter by handling wood or leaves which have been in contact with the plant in the previous months.

ALLEGATING REACTION
You can do a lot to alleviate the reaction, possibly even prevent it, by washing your hands, arms, or whatever area touched the poison ivy plant.

Repeated washings are essential. Use an inexpensive laundry soap rather than face or bath soap. Place the exposed area under running water, rub the soap in gently but firmly with a soft brush.

However, you can save yourself a lot of trouble simply by avoiding any plants with notched leaves growing in clusters of three.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. E.: Can rifle shooting cause arthritis to one's shooting shoulder?

Answer: Any type of jarring or repeated pressure, such as comes from the kick of a rifle, can cause osteoarthritis, which is a form of arthritis, to occur in the shoulder joint where the handle of the gun is held.

DIVERSION

"How is it that Joan attracts all the men?" asked Pat of her friend.

"I think it runs in her family," was the reply. "Her father's a steel magnate."

"Well, Toos, what would you say if I asked you to marry me?" "Nothing; I can't talk and laugh at the same time."

"Two college professors were earnestly discussing the increasing cost of living. 'Everything is always going up,' said one. 'Oh, I wouldn't say that,' replied the other. 'For instance, there's your opinion of me, my opinion of you, and the students' opinion of us both.'"

THE NEW CREW IN OTTAWA CAN'T KEEP IT AFLOAT EITHER

Back to Normal For Londoners

BY M. McINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.) Correspondent for the Herald

LONDON — London is back to normal — almost. The buses are running but fewer of them than there were before the seven-week strike. Dock workers are back at their jobs, unloading the precious cargoes of foodstuffs from the ships at the London docks. The Smithfield meat market is again operating and Londoners can now anticipate normal meat supplies and lower prices.

The strikes, however, have left their scars. Yesterday, when the buses had their first business day of operation, they were carrying fewer passengers than they did before the strike. The rush-hour buses, which formerly were packed to capacity, were running half empty. On the other hand, there seemed to be little diminution in the crowds jamming their way into the underground trains. People who had acquired the underground travel habit because of the strike are continuing to use that mode of transportation. So the net result of the bus strike has been to lessen the demand for bus services.

Perhaps it is just as well. During the strike, something between 1,600 and 1,700 bus employees gave up their jobs and found other employment. According to the London Transport executive, the reduction in passengers will make it unnecessary to hire other employees to replace those who have resigned.

LITTLE GAINED

What have the bus employees gained as a result of the strike. One can see very little in the way of gains. The London bus drivers have their increase of eight shillings and sixpence ($1.20) a week, but that had been granted them by an arbitration board before the strike started.

Some other employees have an increase of five shillings and sixpence a week. The group whose wage rates caused the strike, the country lorry drivers, have as yet gained nothing. The arbitration board decided they were not entitled to increases. That caused the strike. All they have gained is a review of their wage schedules with a view to some upward revision being made. The review is now under way, but what they will get out of it is an unknown quantity. So the strike has cost them seven weeks wages, with no assurance of what it has brought them. And it has cost the coffers of their union one and a half million pounds in strike pay.

NO GAIN AT SMITHFIELD

The Smithfield meat market was all along an unofficial strike, not approved by the union. It arose when truck drivers were asked to increase their average speed from 20 miles to 30 miles an hour, because of a change in speed limits. To compensate them for the extra journeys they would then be able to make, they demanded a wage increase of 15 per cent. They went on strike when it was refused. They have gone back without getting it. Now the government has set up a commission to investigate the causes of the strike, in order to produce better labor relations at the Smithfield market.

The dock workers' strike was an offshoot of the Smithfield strike. When "Seab" labor was introduced at Smithfield, the Tooley Street dock workers went out on strike in sympathy with the meat market crews. The dock employers brought in unregistered labor to take their places and so the strike spread to about 20,000 dock workers. They are also now back at work. They have gained nothing by their gesture of sympathy for the Smithfield workers.

SERIOUS POSSIBILITIES

The dock strike, however, may have serious repercussions. The United Steamship Company of Denmark, which does a large business in shipping Danish foodstuffs to Britain, has served notice that it may cease to use the Port of London because of the too frequent work stoppages because of strikes. During the strike, it used east coast ports to discharge its cargoes, and it threatens to go on doing so. The permanent loss of these ships would be a serious blow to the London docks, and at the same time, to the dock workers.

So it would seem that the net result of the strikes has been to jeopardize the employment possibilities for the bus employees and the dock workers. It has been a sorry business, with nothing gained, if anything, gained, and the likelihood of a great deal being lost, by those who went on strike.

OLD Y.M.C.A.

(From "Look" Magazine)
Shortly after the original Young Men's Christian Association was formed in London, England, a group of prominent Chicago citizens applied for a charter. Thus in 1838 was born one of the first and most influential YMCAs in the United States. The largest such institution in the world today, the Chicago Y.M.C.A.'s stated objective still is, "to aid in the development of Christian standards of living, conduct and life purpose in its members and constituency."

Royal Tour Cost To Reach $50,000

By JAMES K. NESBITT
VICTORIA—This capital is being all but propped up for the visit of the Princess Margaret.

The public's money doesn't mean a thing; officials are spending it lavishly, so that H.R.H. will have every comfort and elegance, so that British Columbians will appear as people who most certainly know how to treat royalty, as indeed they do, having had lots of experience.

It's not that a Princess is difficult to entertain; it's her staff that requires the expert stowing-away.

Princess Margaret will travel with an entourage of about 24 people—and that's a lot of people. She has two ladies-in-waiting, a secretary, an equestrian, a footman, two personal maids, a dresser, a hairdresser, a doctor, a wardrobe mistress, a stenographer, a Scotland Yard detective, plus various and assorted people to smooth her way through the rounds and rounds of protocol.

And there's so much protocol to be wary of when it comes to the staff. The maid to the Princess, for instance, is several notches above the maid to the ladies-in-waiting; the hairdresser is a notch above the wardrobe mistress, or it may be the other way round. It's all very difficult, and baffling, and great care must be taken that no-one's feelings are hurt.

The Princess and her suite will stay at the Empress Hotel, in the most lavish suite, usually occupied by the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Frank MacKenzie Ross, who have moved one floor up for the royal visit.

side, and stretching down the long corridors, are bedroom after bedroom for members of the Royal staff.

The government will pick up the bill for all this, as it will pick up all the Royal bills as long as the Princess is in British Columbia, which will be two weeks. About $50,000 should do the job.

GRAND RESTORATION
The Victoria Colonist is restoring the grave of Amor de Cosmos in Ross Bay cemetery here.

Amor de Cosmos founded The Colonist in December of 1858; he was B.C.'s second Premier, 1872-74, and for 10 years was Victoria's member in the House of Commons.

He was one of the most remarkable men in our history; the Government of Canada has paid tribute to him as "a leader in the struggle for responsible government and confederation."

Lieut.-Governor Frank MacKenzie Ross will place a wreath on the de Cosmos grave August 20—the 133rd anniversary of his birth. Born in Windsor, Nova Scotia, this brilliant, eccentric man's name was William Alexander Smith, but during the California gold rush of 1849 he became fed up with all the Bill Smiths there, and so he went to Sacramento, and by special act of the state legislature, had his name legally changed to Amor de Cosmos—lover of the universe.

He died in Victoria July 4, 1897, and for years his grave has been neglected, the wording on the granite monument obliterated by wind and rain, the grass long and untidy.

Now The Colonist, which he founded a century ago, is making of this grave a Provincial shrine to a man who did a very great deal for British Columbia and for Canada.

OTTAWA REPORT

New Man Guides Liberal Leader

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Special Correspondent to the Herald

OTTAWA — It is remarkable how wide some doors are opened around here by a little bit of defeat.

And this is especially true at or near the summit in adversity, where doors which used to be so firmly closed are now invitingly open on a come-one-come-all basis. Noteworthy in this respect is that popular and headlined statesman, made familiar to all through his decor of bow tie, "boyish grin" and Nobel Peace Prize.

When "Mike" was our Secretary of State for External Affairs, he was virtually inaccessible to most journalists. I was very fortunate; but his secretary, Mary Macdonald, barred his door against many newsmen with a wall of oh so solid flesh, in a zealous and jealous manner not shown by woman since Flora of the same name sacrificed her forearm as a door latch to protect Bonnie Prince Charlie.

Now "Mike" under new management has become Hon. Lester Pearson. John Payne, one of our most successful commercial publicists, has been lured by the National Liberal Federation at a rich remuneration to build a hero of the grass roots of that diplomat of the ivory tower.

THE LIBERAL HOPE

In this era of the cult of personality at the summit of the Liberal Party—which was initiated by projecting an apparently forbidding Quebec lawyer into trans-Canadian folklore as "Uncle" the immediate future of the party largely depends upon John Payne's mission to create a winning image out of his employer's selected front man.

This practitioner emeritus in wooing the public was long successful in putting across the 300-year-old Hudson's Bay Company of Adventurers trading into our West. Now he must attempt as much with his 61-year-old charge adventuring especially into a West barren of elected followers.

He certainly isn't a model of promising clay than that available previously to Bill Munro, the account executive of the advertising agency Cockfield Brown, who handles the Liberal Party business.

As a first step, he has launched a campaign to win back for Mr. Pearson that reverent and uncritical admiration, which was tendered to him by political correspondents here through his nine years as External Affairs Secretary—only to be destroyed within an hour on 20th January last in the most impressively successful political suicide ever caused by error of judgment.

Through years past, Mr. Pearson has held weekly press conferences which earned him both admiration and headlines. So as a start, John Payne has reintroduced these, but with a difference.

In Parliament's Room 497, about two dozen newsmen gathered for the first conference. This is the present Liberal Party caucus room, which used to house no more than a Quebec caucus.

ATTENDING DROPS
The following week, the audience of newsmen was halved, which testified to the thinness of the gruel. For when Mr. Pearson was a Cabinet Minister, he would talk freely and frankly on any topic raised. But now when he is Leader of the Opposition, charm is all. Every worthwhile topic is barred on the grounds that it will shortly be discussed in Parliament. This new preferential respect for Parliament deodorizes his news conferences. Our unapologetic attention hence roamed around the room, appreciating the attractive panning, noting the gilded door knobs proclaiming "Honor the King" and "Fear God," comparing the brooding black busts of former Liberal giants at one end of the room and the happy live faces of present Liberal aides at the other. The hour-long conference was recorded word by word by a Hansard reporter with a tape-recorder, who was moonlighting at the expense of the National Liberal Federation; and by a five-man CBC television crew with camera, lights and tape-recorder, which was not moonlighting and was at the expense of the taxpayer, which means you.

As one cynic commented, we will soon be given coffee and doughnuts to fill the hour which facts may not fill.

The only remaining interest in what was once a most popular press conference on The Hill, now is to see what gimmick the brilliant John Payne will infuse into this moribund moment.

Governor-General Of Ghana Marries Canadian Singer

ACCRA, Ghana (Reuters) — Lord Listowel, governor-general of Ghana, was married here Tuesday afternoon to Miss Stephanie Wise, a Canadian singer. The ceremony was attended by Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, prime minister of Ghana.

Miss Wise, of Ottawa, flew to Ghana from Canada Monday night.

Lord Listowel is due to go on leave today. Listowel, who is 51 and the fifth earl, married a daughter of a Hungarian diplomat in 1933 but this marriage was dissolved in 1945. They had one daughter.

The wedding took place at the governor-general's lodge. The ceremony was conducted by Philip Archer, acting registrar-general.

The bride, whose full name is Stephanie Sandra Yvonne Wise, has studied singing in New York, London and Paris. It was in Paris that she met Listowel.

Treasure Chests Holds Shower Gifts

Mrs. Roland Chapman, the former Dorothy Glover, a bride of Saturday afternoon, was entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. F. C. McNeill Vancouver Avenue, with Miss Alice Lockhart as co-hostesses.

The gifts, were contained in a "Pirates Treasure Chest" and presented to the honoree by young Christopher, Roger and Frances McNeill dressed as characters from Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance" as most of the guests present, including the bride, had been associated with the recent production of the opera.

Penticton guests included Mrs. Stewart Jackson, Mrs. Peter Ball, Mrs. Louis Hohenadel, Miss Isobel Donaldson, Miss Betty Baxter and Miss Peggy Johnston. Others honoring the June bride were Mrs. Lionel Fudge, Mrs. Flora Bergstrom, Miss Minnie Breikopp, Mrs. John Kitson, Summerland, Mrs. Isobel Chapman, Mrs. Ken Booth, Mrs. K. Faber and Miss Evelyn Schindler.

Mountain House, Alberta, and their son Paul Weeks from North Surrey.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Misutka, 583 Alberta Avenue, were Misses Shirley and Sharon Dobroski of Salmon Arm, and Fred Iverson and daughters Mary and Kathleen of Trail. Mr. Iverson returned to Trail Monday along with Kathleen and Mrs. C. Lesiak. The latter is the mother of Mrs. Misutka and Mrs. Iverson has been staying at the Misutka home for the last two months. Mary Iverson remained in Penticton for part of the summer holidays. The two Dobroski girls came to Penticton to attend the Forsby-Garrison wedding in Penticton United Church, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bowron who arrived from Biggar, Saskatchewan, Saturday spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. F. Douglas Stuart, Forestbrook Drive, prior to going to West Summerland where they will take up residence.

Miss Jean Spiller of Vancouver is spending the current week in Penticton as a guest of Miss Wilma Unwin at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Unwin, Nelson Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. David Pritchard, who have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Pritchard, have returned to Vancouver where Mr. Pritchard will attend the summer session at the University of B.C.

Pretty Ceremony At Church Manse

The Penticton United Church manse was the setting for a pretty ceremony Saturday, June 28, uniting in marriage Muriel Heather Park and Bent Hej Mathiasen. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Park, Lakeside Road, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Earl Mathiasen of Denmark. Rev. Ernest Rands officiated at the evening ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white net and lace with a matching halo headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

Miss Anice Park, as her sister's only attendant, wore a softly colored blue frock of lace and net and carried pink and white roses. Douglas Park was best man.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Park was attractively attired in a beige ensemble when she received guests with the wedding principals.

TRICK OF THE CHIEF

Serve small sections of peeled cantaloupe (each with a lemon wedge), and 2 small thin slices chilled cooked ham and coarse ground black pepper.

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They toss and turn in bed—and then are dull and listless throughout the day.

Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they slow down and impurities stay in the system, disturbed rest, tired feeling and backache often follow.

If you don't rest well at night—if you haven't that sprightly step of health in the daytime—use Dodd's Kidney Pills. You can depend on Dodd's!

Dorothy Glover-Roland Chapman Are Principals in June Ceremony

A lovely bride, Miss Dorothy Glover, was attended by her six bridesmaids when she exchanged marriage vows with Roland Chapman of Edmonton, Alberta, at a pretty June ceremony Saturday in the Penticton United Church. Rev. Ernest Rands officiated when the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Douglas Glover.

The principals, who both came to Canada last year, are the daughter of Mrs. Leslie T. Glover of London, and the late Mr. Glover, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Chapman of Essex.

The bride fashioned her own gown styled from Swiss-embroidered nylon over tissue taffeta and crinolines. It was designed in the princess mode with an empire-style waistline, lily-point sleeves and round neckline defined by scalloped of sheer embroidery. A chapel veil of illusion was clasped by a pearl studded tiara. She wore a necklace and earrings of matching pearls and carried a cascade of bouquets of red roses and stephanotis to complement her ensemble.

Bouffant floor-length frocks of white flannel nylon over turquoise taffeta with matching colored velvet sashes were worn by the young attendants, Miss Sandra Faber, maid of honor, and the Misses Luann Hohenadel, Beverly Faber, Carole Glover and Stephanie Glover. They carried nosegays of pastel colored sweet-peas and wore matching floral hair circlets, and silver bracelets, gifts from the groom.

Peter Ball was best man and the ushers were D. H. Tully and John Letellier. Mrs. Monica Craig Fisher was wedding organizer, and the Junior Choir of the United Church, directed this past year by the bride, sang during the signing of the register.

A reception followed aboard the SS Sicomous where the guests were received by the wedding party and the bride's mother, who flew from London to attend the wedding. The toast to the bride was proposed by her brother-in-law, Louis Hohenadel, and the toast to the attendants was given by the best man.

A three-tiered cake decorated with red roses centred the reception table beautifully arranged in silver and pink gladioli.

The bride, who has been with the teaching staff at Queen's Park School for the past year, was attractively attired in a cream bengaline suit with matching hat, red accessories and the corsage contained in her wedding bouquet when the young couple left on the honeymoon trip to Waterton Lake, National Park, Alberta. They will reside at Edmonton on their return and then go to Montreal to take up residence in the fall.

Eighty Guests at PTA Sponsored Tea

Teachers, school board members and the public health nurses were among the eighty honored guests that attended a tea sponsored by the High School and Primary-Jermyn Avenue Parent-Teacher Associations, in the high school cafeteria last week.

Hostesses presiding at each of the tea tables were Mrs. W. A. McIver, Mrs. Trevor Punnett, Mrs. J. P. Folk, Mrs. Ralph Flitton, Mrs. R. Casey, Mrs. H. W. Donald, Mrs. Richard Cawood, Mrs. V. A. Wickett and Mrs. C. M. McLeod, assisted by Mrs. Gordon Strang, Mrs. E. Parmley and Mrs. Dick Warr. Each table was beautifully appointed in silver and summer blooms.

Convenor of the tea was Mrs. E. M. Lloyd, assisted by a committee of Mrs. E. A. Horsnell, Mrs. Emil Morgenstern, Mrs. Harry Kent, Mrs. L. Noakes, and Mrs. John Bowen-Colthurst.

Past president of the Primary-Jermyn Avenue P-T-A, Mrs. G. L. Snider, received guests at the door.

The guests, in thanking the associations, remarked that this tea is always held at a most appropriate time. Just when the teachers are tired and looking forward to the holidays, and they always enjoy it very much.

PEACHLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ferguson with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ferguson, stopped on route to their home in Kamloops to visit their sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Ferguson, Trepanier, following an extended trip to Eastern Canada and the USA, returning home via Chicago, Duluth and Spokane.

GIRL GUIDE ELEANOR COATES, recipient of the "Gold Cord", is congratulated by division commissioner Mrs. A. E. Bennett following the presentation at Oliver.

LET'S EAT

A World Tour of Foods is Offered in New York City

In New York City, the 1958 Summer Festival is in full swing. The fascinating rush of Coney Island, the cool quiet of the Botanical Gardens, the fabulous Bronx Zoo, the museums, the whir of the New International Airport, a relaxing boat ride around the Island, open air concerts and special events—all are delighting visitors.

TAKE A FOOD TOUR

"For dinner, the guests can take a round - the - world food tour," suggests our Chef.

"Each evening select a different place to dine — the hotels, the YWCA, YMCA and other organizations will suggest suitable restaurants. Many are listed in the telephone book."

"For example, they should try cog au vin at a French sidewalk cafe; enjoy a casserole of paella and watch the dancers at a Spanish restaurant; savor romance along with Schnitzel Holstein and candlelight at a Viennese restaurant."

"They can also drop into an Armenian restaurant for shish kebab; stop for curry at an East Indian place; investigate suki-yaki; practice eating lobster Cantonese with chopsticks, and savor an Italian dinner with cafe espresso in Greenwich Village."

MANY TYPES

"There are almost as many types of foreign restaurants to choose from as there are flags at the United Nations."

"After dinner, there is the gay nighttime glow in Times Square to enjoy; the beautiful flood-lit flower gardens at Radio City; or they might like to window-shop along Fifth Avenue."

"I prophesy our visitors will greatly enjoy their stay in New York," ended the Chef, sweeping off his high bonnet. "Welcome, everybody!"

WATER SHORTAGE
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Mayor Frank A. Sedita declared a state of emergency until this morning after a power failure crippled the city's pumping station Tuesday. The electric pumps stopped for only 56 minutes, but the pressure in water mains dropped sharply. Hospitals drew on emergency water supplies.

QUEBECERS DROWN
STE. CATHERINE, Que. (CP)—Three Quebec City residents were drowned in the Jacques Cartier River Tuesday when their motor boat flipped over. An unidentified 10-year-old boy was the only survivor. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Real Boulanger, both 27, and Gaston Grenon, 24, Mrs. Boulanger's brother.

CHARGE MURDER ATTEMPT
SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—A charge of attempted murder was laid here Tuesday against James Henry, 25, of Kettle Point Indian reserve, arrested Monday night in the wounding of his father-in-law, Daniel Bressette, 51, operator of a store on the reserve.

SMALL TORNADO
SHAWINIGAN, Que. (CP)—A severe electrical storm and a small tornado Tuesday night heavily damaged several houses and small structures in Shawinigan south, near this city 150 miles northeast of Montreal. No one was reported injured.

POUND TO ITALY
NEW YORK (AP)—Post Extra Pound headed back to Italy Tuesday after 13 years in a Washington, D. C. mental asylum. Pound, 72, was accused of treason because of broadcasts he made from Italy during the Second World War.

NEW POST
LIVINGSTON, N. J. (AP)—At 32 John W. Wallace Jr. is graduating, too. Last school year he was a janitor at Livingston High School. Next fall he will be teaching English and social studies at the same school after receiving his teaching certificate from Montclair state teachers college.

OLD VIC TOUR
LONDON (Reuters)—An Old Vic theatre company of 50, headed by John Neville and Barbara Jefford, will tour the United States and Canada next fall with a repertoire of three Shakespeare plays—Hamlet, Twelfth Night and Henry V. It was announced Tuesday night, Toronto and Montreal will be the only Canadian stops.

WORKING VACATIONS
LONDON (CP)—The first of two groups of London University undergraduates left by air Tuesday for a working vacation in Canada. The group of 25 will be followed by another plane load of 19 next Tuesday.

NUMEROUS BRITISH ISLES
How many islands in the British Isles? It is rather astonishing to learn from the Book of Knowledge that there are over 5,000. However, most of them are uninhabited and some are very small. The largest group is the Hebrides, with about 500 islands.

WINCH PROPOSAL
The discussion on credit needs of small business grew out of a speech by Harold Winch (CCF-Vancouver East). He proposed that chartered banks and the Industrial Development Bank be geared to handle long-term capital loans for small businesses.

SONS OF FREEDOM
The Sons of Freedom in a unified way. What is needed is a commission on Doukhobor affairs.

PROF. DIXON
Prof. Dixon said it must be remembered that persons who feel they are threatened will in turn threaten someone else.

HE SAID
He said administration was the major problem at the point. "There is no administrative organization within government to deal with this major problem of Doukhobor girl."

LIVESTOCK, OIL BACKS SASKATCHEWAN'S BOOM

Business is booming in Saskatchewan, one of the few provinces not affected by the recession. Even the farmer is sharing in the economic upsurge which also finds mineral, oil and construction industries at all time high and retail trade setting new records. Main reason for the increase in farmers' income is the tendency to replace wheat lands with livestock. Marketings of beef cattle during the first quarter of 1958 are up by over 60 per cent from last year. Prices are higher as Saskatchewan farmers find a ready market in the Western U.S. Crude oil is still a buoyant industry although the boom has levelled off after hitting all-time drilling records last fall. Daily production in Saskatchewan is at a new high—about 124,000 barrels a day as compared with 101,000 per day last year.

Solemnity and Gaiety Mark Dominion Day

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Solemnity and gaiety were all part of activities Tuesday as Canadians celebrated the country's 91st birthday. Newfoundlanders paused to remember the dead of three wars. Twenty-one gun salutes boomed from the high ground of the cities. Fireworks displays splashed brilliant colors across the warm night skies. Dominion Day holidaygoers watched parades, went to ball games, bet their money on the favorites and flocked to parks, lakes and summer cottages. The July 1 holiday was celebrated under summer skies, with hot weather in the East and pleasant temperatures in the West.

From coast-to-coast the ceremonies marked the federation of the united provinces of Upper and Lower Canada (Ontario and Quebec) with Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in 1867.

SPECIAL MEANING
And for Newfoundland, which joined in 1949, British Columbia, 1871, and Quebec City, the celebrations had special significance. It was Tuesday, July 1, 1916, that the Royal Newfoundland Regiment fought in the battle of Beaumont Hamel in France. Only 86 of the 800 men answered roll call after one day of the bloody fighting against German entrenchments.

Wreaths were placed at Newfoundland war memorials Tuesday and flowers were set on the graves of former servicemen as the island paid tribute to the dead of the two world wars and the Korean conflict.

Quebec City celebrated its 350th birthday with a parade of 80 floats and 30 bands.

Celebrations in British Columbia were linked to the province's centennial observances. Boys competed in the Western Canada soap box derby finals near Vancouver, city police held a track and field day, a museum was dedicated at Fort Langley where the crown colony of B.C. was proclaimed 100 years ago, a night-time fireworks display lit up the city of New Westminster.

MPs Debate Credit For Small Business

By ALLAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons spent Dominion Day at work discussing the economic ailments of the Nova Scotia coal industry and the credit needs of Canada's small businesses.

The outcome: The big Progressive Conservative majority won, by 137 to 42, what was in effect a vote of confidence Tuesday night in the Conservative government's coal and power policies in the Maritimes.

And a series of speakers from all parties agreed something should be done to help small business to obtain long-term credit for capital expansion.

Today the Commons resumes its budget debate with a vote scheduled on a Liberal non-confidence motion. It accuses the government of inadequate measures to meet the recession and of moving toward greater trade restrictions counter to a free-trade trend in the Western world. The eight-day debate is due to end Thursday.

MARK DOMINION DAY
The House gave some recognition Tuesday to Canada's 91st anniversary of Confederation. It opened two hours later than usual due to a colorful military parade on the Parliament Hill lawn, and began with the singing of O Canada in French and English—and God Save the Queen.

Then it resumed debate on a Liberal non-confidence motion charging the government with "failure" to avert a five-week shutdown of the surplus-plagued Nova Scotia mines of the Dominion Coal Company.

The motion put forward Monday by H. J. Rotichaud, Gloucester, also said the government has "backed away" from its commitment to promote Atlantic area industrial development and especially from its "specific undertaking" to ensure use of Maritime coal in the area's thermal power plants built with federal aid.

MAY END MONOPOLY
In other developments:

1. Trade Minister Churchill hinted the government is thinking of ending the monopoly over Newfoundland salt cod exports held by the Newfoundland Associated Fish Exporters Limited, but said there will be a year's notice if this is done.

2. Senator Calvert C. Pratt (L-Newfoundland) urged in the Upper House a program to help his province's fishermen regain a larger share of the world salt cod market.

3. Senator Jean-Francois Poullet (L-Quebec) objected to the term "Dominion Day" and said this country is not the Dominion of Canada but simply Canada.

4. External Affairs Minister Smith said he expects congressional amendments to the U.S. Atomic Energy Act will let Canada obtain more information from the U.S. on atomic warfare.

WINCH PROPOSAL
The discussion on credit needs of small business grew out of a speech by Harold Winch (CCF-Vancouver East). He proposed that chartered banks and the Industrial Development Bank be geared to handle long-term capital loans for small businesses.

SONS OF FREEDOM
The Sons of Freedom in a unified way. What is needed is a commission on Doukhobor affairs.

PROF. DIXON
Prof. Dixon said it must be remembered that persons who feel they are threatened will in turn threaten someone else.

HE SAID
He said administration was the major problem at the point. "There is no administrative organization within government to deal with this major problem of Doukhobor girl."

Toreador in More Danger Than Bulls

LINDSAY, Ont. (CP)—Bloodless bullfights scheduled here Aug. 2 and 4 will be more dangerous to the bullfighter than to the bull, sponsors say. Jack Conway of Waterloo, Ont., publicity director for the event, says the bulls will suffer less than the toreros, without their usual avords and carrying only two blunted banderillas and a cape, will be in double the danger of a regular bullfight.

Conway described a banderilla as "a long decorated stick with a pronged hook." But in the Lindsay fights, they will have no prongs.

"Normally, the matador would jab the bull in the neck with the banderilla," he said in an interview. "In Lindsay, two banderillas will be tied together with a leather thong into an H-shape, which the bullfighter will merely place over the animal's head, the banderillas will then fall to the ground."

ONLY A SLAP
In Mexico and Spain, stabbing of the bull with banderillas precedes the actual killing, when the matador pierces the animal's heart through its neck with a sword. In Lindsay, the bullfighter will lure the bull with his cape, then lean over its horns and slap it sharply with the palm of his hand.

Conway said this is the most perilous moment for the bullfighter. Outriders will help the matador out of any trouble. "The whole thrill will be in watching men standing up to 1-

"THE RESPONSE EXCEEDED ALL EXPECTATIONS"

...Number of Newspapers Used
Increased 70%"

PROPER EYE CARE SOLD BY DAILY NEWSPAPERS

One year ago, for the first time, Kahn Optical Company, suppliers to the optical professions, chose daily newspapers as the medium to inform as many Canadians as possible of the vital need to conserve good eyesight. The response exceeded all expectations! Take full advantage of the flexibility and low cost concentrated sales impact daily newspapers offer in the markets you want to reach. Contact your daily newspaper advertising managers for full information.

KAHN OPTICAL COMMENDED
Here are two of the commendations:
"The program of public-spirited advertising which Kahn Optical has placed in many Canadian daily newspapers is very commendable and we endorse your effort."
S. E. Matthews, President,
The Ophthalmic Dispensers of Manitoba

"Vision is man's most priceless possession and the fact that Kahn Optical has chosen to stress eye-sight conservation, in a series of daily newspaper messages, is certainly public service of the highest order."
Harold C. Arnold, President,
The Canadian Association of Optometrists.

MR. A. B. LADDON
President of Kahn Optical

had this to say:
"So well received were our Eye-Care advertisements placed in daily newspapers during 1956, that we have now increased the number of newspapers by 70% for 1957. Every indication is that the majority of newspaper readers are reading . . . and heeding these educational messages."

PETER TOMLIN'S

SPORTS DIARY

One of the biggest little sport shows ever to be held in Pentiction is scheduled for King's Park on July 24, 25 and 26.

We are referring, of course, to the provincial Babe Ruth League playoffs. Seven teams from all parts of B.C. will be in the three-day playoff in the Peach City.

Four games will be played on each of the three days and, for the first time in a provincial playoff, a consolation round will be played. There will be seven championship games and five other games in the consolation round.

This playoff is held to decide the Babe Ruth champions. The winner will advance to the Northwest finals, which will be held at Klamath Falls, Oregon.

Tickets are now on sale for the playoffs. They can be purchased at Reid-Coates Hardware, 251 Main St. Price for the tickets is $1. One ticket will admit holder to all 12 games. Admission prices at the gate will be fifty cents for each double header.

A few billets are still needed for out-of-town players who will be attending the tourney. The billets will be needed for four nights. Meals and transportation are what the boys will require. If you can provide accommodation for one or more boys, you are asked to contact Lynn Coates at Reid-Coates Hardware.

The other day we received the following letter from Mr. H. Chorlton of West Summerland.

In Peter Tomlin's Sports Diary column of June 20, there is mention of some lakes called the Aurora Lake Chain. Have made several inquiries around as to where they are, but to no avail. Would you please let me know their location?

For anyone else who would like to know where the lakes are, they are about 14 miles out of Little Fort, B.C. Little Fort is about 60 miles north of Kamloops on the No. 5 North Thompson highway. The owner of the hotel at Little Fort will direct you to the lakes.

The lakes were opened in 1955 and are located at the 4000-foot level. Boats, meals and cabins are available at a cost of $15 per person per day. Cabins have hot and cold running water and showers.

A trip to these lakes would probably prove rather expensive, but limit catches are the rule and trout as big as 10 pounds are being taken regularly.

Sounds like a good spot.

The hockey grapevine is really humming these days. Heard a rumor the other day that George Agar, Don McLeod and Ted Lebedia won't be with the Vernon Canadians next season. The rumor has them talking contract with Ken McKenzie.

If this comes to pass, the Chiefs will be loaded again this year.

Ed Bouchée, Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman, has been given permission to return to action in the National League by baseball commissioner Ford Frick.

Frick said, "It was the only decision I could live with." Bouchée, you will recall, had been under suspension after pleading guilty to a morals charge in Spokane in February. Bouchée has been in hospital in Hartford, Conn., undergoing psychiatric treatment since March.

"I have made an exhaustive study of all the evidence and I am convinced Bouchée is completely cured," said Frick. "All the doctors and probation officers who have been assigned to this case have recommended his return to baseball. If there was any evidence that he would fall again, I would not have reinstated him."

Erv Gives Mounties Narrow PCL Lead

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Vancouver Mounties sporting a half-game lead in the Pacific Coast League pennant chase, go for the bundle Wednesday night as they open a seven-game stand at Phoenix's Municipal Stadium, lair of the second-place Giants.

The Mounties, second-place finishers in the PCL a year ago and tabbed as the team to beat when play got under way this year, padded their record with a 3-2 victory over the Seattle Rainiers Tuesday night in one of the two games played.

The Spokane Indians perked up as coach Bobby Bragan took over managerial duties and gave Bragan a 4-2 victory over Sacramento's last-place Solons.

Vancouver Manager Charlie Metro has nominated Mel Held, a righthander with a 5-4 record, to pitch the opening game of the Phoenix series. The Giants will counter with Glenn McMin, who stacks up at 2-2.

The Mounties found Seattle a soft touch Tuesday night as Erv Palcia stopped the Suds on five hits, including Vada Pinson's two-run homer in the sixth.

Seattle threatened in the ninth inning, getting two men on with only one out. But Russ Horn came in to relieve the firing Pinica and put the next two Seattle batters down in order.

Ashley Cooper Enters Finals At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—

Australian champion Ashley Cooper defeated fellow countryman Mervyn Rose today and gained the final round of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

The score was 7-5, 6-2, 6-3.

Cooper will play the winner of the match between Kurt Nielsen of Denmark and Neale Fraser of Australia.

Althea Gibson of New York, defending women's champion, is the only U.S. representative left in the singles competition. Miss Gibson will meet Anne Haydon of Britain in the semi-finals Thursday.

Cooper, 21, runner-up last year to Lew Hoad, had too much power and standstill for the flashy, sharp-volleying Rose, who is 28.

After losing the deuced first set, Cooper took charge of the match with his overpowering service and smashing net play.

FLASHING THE FORM which carried them to second place in the tent pegging competition at the Pentiction Riding Club's annual Gymkhana held at Queen's Park yesterday are these two members of the Pentiction team. Left is Roy Walsh on "Brandy" and right is Allan Hyndman on "Regina". Other members of the local team, which finished second to the Kelowna entry, were Allan Jenkins and Eric Hyndman.

Annual Pentiction Horse Show Acclaimed as Best Ever Held

Perfect co-operation from the weatherman, a large entry list and an appreciative audience combined to make the Pentiction Riding Club's annual Gymkhana and horse show at Queen's Park yesterday the best ever held in the Peach City.

Four clubs, Kelowna, Vernon, Oliver and Similkameen, combined with the Pentiction club to provide one of the largest entry lists in the history of the event.

A large and colorful parade depicting the evolution of the horse as a mode of transportation was one of the features of the afternoon's festivities.

Many trophies and ribbons were awarded to the winning riders at the end of each event. The Nipper trophy for the horse winning the most points went to "Valley Belle," an entry from the Vernon club.

The complete list of winners is as follows:

Children's equitation — 1. Sally

Claydon, Kelowna, on Princess

Wilhelmina; 2. Murray Wilson, Kelowna, on Joker; 3. David Wilson, Kelowna, on Shadow.

VICTORIES—THEN DEATH

Bullfighter Rafael Martin—El Zorro to his fans—appears in command of the situation as he gracefully steps aside during a rush of a sharp-horned bull in a Barcelona, Spain, arena. But in the next second the bull was the winner, catching Martin on the tip of his horn, tossing him high then goring him on the ground. Martin died in the ring where he had won many victories.

Chualo Among 10 Top Heavy weights

NEW YORK (CP)—George Chualo, promising 20-year-old Toronto boxer, has cracked the top 10 in Ring Magazine's list of challengers for Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight crown.

In its latest ratings, announced today, Ring put Chualo in 10th position on the strength of his impressive showing when he held Alex Miteff of Argentina to a 10-round draw in Toronto June 16. Miteff is ranked No. 7.

It was a big jump for Chualo, who has had only 13 professional fights and won 11 of them. He fought 15 times as an amateur. After his battle with Miteff, Chualo drew rave notices, even from Miteff's handlers.

Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., and Zora Foley of Chandler, Ariz., are tied as the No. 1 challengers. Willie Pastrano of New Orleans is next.

Keremeos Takes 6-2 Win Over Interior Nine

Keremeos—Cawston had too much pitching power for Interior Contractors to cope with and romped to a 6-2 win in Babe Ruth League baseball action last night.

Jim Evans again handled the pitching chores for the Similkameen nine and held the Contractors at bay most of the way. Dale Hamilton was the loser.

Nick Knott rapped out a two-run triple in the third inning to pace the Keremeos attack.

Clarke's Building Supply will travel to Keremeos tonight to play a game against Keremeos club. Next game in Penticton will be Saturday night when Interior Contractors will face Love's Lunch.

Legion and Interior Warm Air will clash in a Little League game tonight at 6 o'clock at Little League Park.

Bouchee Given Second Chance

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ed Bouchee, Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman who was restored to baseball by commissioner Ford Frick, joins his teammates here today and will start against Milwaukee Braves Thursday.

The Phils take off for Milwaukee and a four-game series with the Braves. The series may prove the testing ground for Bouchee's comeback in the game he says will provide the best therapy of all.

"This was a medical case," Philadelphia manager Mayo Smith said Tuesday night. "Bouchee is evidently cured and we are happy to have him back. I'll start him at first base Thursday at Milwaukee. He has been working out regularly in Philadelphia and probably will give our club a lift."

SECOND CHANCE since he pleaded guilty to a morals charge. Feb. 20, the 25-year-old Bouchee was given another

Oliver OBC's Win Kelowna Ball Tourney

KELOWNA (CP)—Oliver OBCs clobbered Summerland Macs 10-4 Tuesday night to win the Bennett Trophy and top prize money in the Kelowna Baseball Tournament for the second consecutive year.

Oliver earlier eliminated Al-mira, Wash., 9-4 in a game that saw the Americans fade after taking a four-run lead in the first inning. Summerland took a three-run gift from starting pitcher Gordon Holderbein and went on to beat Vernon 4-3.

In the semi-final event, Al-mira and Vernon went hit happy as Al-mira took third money with a 16-11 victory. Vernon was fourth.

In Monday's action, Oliver blanked Maillardville Athletics 5-0 and Al-mira eliminated Port Moody Braves 6-4.

OVER 250 PERSONAL INTERVIEWS with leading clothing retailers across

Canada convinced British Woollens of the effectiveness of Daily Newspaper Advertising

On recent field trips from coast-to-coast, British Woollens asked over 250 of the most successful clothing stores this important question "What Advertising Medium gives best for you?" Invariably the answer was the same: "Our local Newspaper." Proof of the enthusiasm shown by these retailers for Daily Newspaper Advertising lies in this simple fact. During the past year, these merchants have supported seasonal Newspaper Campaigns for British Woollens with 48,000 lines of retail advertising... a bonus of 80%... either in the form of sizeable "hookers" or individual advertisements of their own.

OVER 48,000 LINES OF SUPPORTING ADVERTISING... A BONUS OF 80%

British Woollens advertising is handled by Pemberton, Freeman, Bennett, & Milne Ltd. A member of the Canadian Association of Advertising Agencies.

Educational TV Poses Problems

By G. K. HODENFELD

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—For two years this community has been carrying on an elaborate experiment in educational television. The near-unanimous verdict: "It's wonderful."

What happens here is being watched closely by educationists across the country.

Classroom TV has serious drawbacks. For one thing, it's expensive.

With a few rare exceptions it doesn't reduce the number of teachers needed because it can't begin to handle the day-to-day classroom discussion which is the backbone of education. It can't answer the million and one questions children are bound to ask.

Is it just a gimmick, then? "Absolutely not," declares William B. Brish, Hagerstown's superintendent of schools.

"Television is no more a gadget than the textbook. In fact, it deserves a place alongside the textbook as the most important educational advance of the century."

It's easy to get the wrong idea about classroom television. The kids in Hagerstown, for instance, don't sit quietly in their seats staring at a 21-inch screen all the school day long.

They get an absolute maximum of one hour and 20 minutes of TV teaching a day, and that high school students get 25 minutes a day, and grade school pupils about an hour.

"If classroom TV isn't used any more than that, what's the advantage? A recent sixth-grade science demonstration is an example. A representative of the state fish hatcheries brought a huge aquarium to the school system's studios. In the same 25-minute period more than 1,000 students in 31 classrooms got a closeup look at the fish on their TV screens, even saw the fish laying their eggs.

Experts in all sorts of fields can be lured to the studios or would agree to visit a number of classes in schools scattered all over the city.

And the television camera can control the size of a demonstration, even to the point of peering into the eyepiece of a microscope.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Brennan Enjoying Biggest Success

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Recently a visitor on a film set exclaimed: "Why, there's grandpa McCoy! I imagine finding him making a movie!"

Later, Walter Brennan sighed: "Think of it—after three Oscars and 40 years in the picture business, I'm known for a character I did one season on television!"

Such are the vagaries of the new show business, and Walter isn't complaining. Far from it. Sixty-four this month, he's enjoying the biggest success of a long and distinguished career.

Right now, Walter is back at the job he knows best: Making movies. He's playing an old codger in Rio Bravo, a western with John Wayne, Dean Martin and Ricky Nelson.

For realism's sake, he has taken out his dental plates and is playing the old fellow with a gummy drawl. He also is unshaven.

"I wanted to get as far away from grandpa McCoy as I could," he remarked. "And still, the visitors on the set always recognize me from the TV show."

As most Thursday night watchers know, Walter is the star of The Real McCoys. The show is about some transplanted mountain folks who get into a variety of funny escapades in their new home in California.

Though he often plays hillbilly and cracker, Walter actually hails from Swampscott, Mass. When he's not doing a role, he talks with an "la" as broad as the Harvard Yahr.

"When I'm in character, it doesn't show," he said. "But it can be pretty hard to get rid of at other times. I've been in the cattle business in Oregon for a long time, and I had to learn to order 'calves' instead of 'calves.' I kept getting cows instead."

ROOM AND BOARD

THE EARL HAS RUN HIS WINNINGS ON A QUIZ PROGRAM UP TO $2500 AND I CAN'T PERSUADE THE BIG GAF TO TAKE IT AND QUIT!

I KNOW HE'S PRESSING HIS LUCK AND I'M SURE HE'S GOING TO BE THROWN LIKE HIGHWAY LITTER ON ONE OF THE QUIZ QUESTIONS... AND THEN HE'LL DROP TO $500... VOW! YOU TRY AND MAKE HIM LISTEN TO REASON!

Declarer knew West was down to only diamonds, since West had shown up with three spades, two hearts, three clubs, and had bid diamonds.

The last trump was now cashed to compel West to make a discard. West realized that if he discarded the seven-declarer would lead a diamond, play low from his hand, and force West to take the lead for the fatal diamond return into South's A-Q.

To avoid this endplay, therefore, West discarded the ten of diamonds. But declarer found the counterstroke. He led the six from dummy.

Now East had to choose what to do. If he played the five, South would play the four, and West would again be employed. If East played the nine, declarer would play the queen. West won, but having only the J-7 left, could not prevent dummy's eight and South's ace from taking tricks nine and ten.

CANUCKS SHARE CAKE WITH UNEF TROOPS

The Canadian contingent of the UNEF serving in the Middle East celebrated Dominion Day with a birthday cake. Soldiers of other countries with UNEF joined in the celebration. Here, Sgt. Bjorn Jensen of Denmark, S/Sgt. Gbico Duser of Yugoslavia and Cpl. Surjan Singh of India stand in line for a piece of the birthday cake, served by Pte. Michael Lane, RCASC, of Halifax, N.S.

FINAL PRESENTATION PARTY

75 Canadian Girls Will Meet Queen

By SYLVIA HACK
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP) — Seventy-five Canadian girls will curtsy to the Queen this month, ensuring themselves a special niche in social history.

The Canadians are among the lucky girls selected to be presented to the Sovereign in this last official royal debutante season. Buckingham Palace announced last November that this year's presentation party would be the last. In future, socially prominent young ladies will be invited only to the mass garden parties held each summer on the palace lawns.

The announcement touched off such a flood of applications for presentation that the Queen is holding five presentation parties this year instead of the normal three. The Canadians are being presented at the two Commonwealth parties July 10 and 17. English debutantes had their turn earlier this year.

The number of Canadians being presented this year is almost double the usual number. Last year only 44 made their curtsies to the Queen.

SOCIAL GULF
The decision to end the presentation parties is in keeping with the Queen's expressed desire to create opportunities for wider contacts with her subjects. The parties have often been criticized on the grounds that they perpetuated class distinction, creating a social gulf between girls who had, and who had not, been presented.

Since 1951, 250 debutantes have been presented annually in the white and gold ballroom at the palace, before joining several thousand other guests on the palace lawns for afternoon tea.

Each debutante must be sponsored by a lady who has herself been presented to the Queen. By custom, girls from overseas Commonwealth countries are presented by the wife of their country's high commissioner in London.

The presentation parties are believed to owe their origin to Queen Elizabeth I, who used to stroll and chat with selected members of the public admitted to the long corridors of the old Greenwich Palace. The early Georges held boisterous stag parties for men, while their queens entertained the ladies at more sedate gatherings in another part of the palace.

WARTIME HALT
The present form of party, in which the debas are presented in turn, began during the reign of Queen Victoria. King Edward VII moved the parties from the afternoon to the evening and called them "evening courts." They continued in this form until 1939, when the Second World War brought such court activities to a halt. The parties were revived as afternoon affairs in 1951.

Canadian debutantes being presented July 10 are:
British Columbia — Nan Lawrence, Baxter of Victoria, Barbara Larder of Kelowna.

Alberta — Jeanette Hawrelak, Gillian Yorath, Barbara Howes, Eleanor Lilly, Sheila McCorry, Myrna Stephen, Nora Welbourn, Edmonton; Mona McLaughlin, Calgary.

Saskatchewan — Patricia Coivan, Heather Kirkwood, Regina, Manitoba — Joan Patriache, Ellen Rodway, Winnipeg.

Ontario — Jessie Gillies, Jill Woods, Ottawa; Amy-Grace Nesbitt, Linda Fitzgerald, Marion Joubin, Shipley Verner, Jane de Courcy Manning, Dianna Meredith, Sandra Smith, Toronto; Sandra Conant, Oakville; Sandra Hall, Peterborough; Susan Thomson, Kingston.

Quebec — Patricia Creery, Margaret Gibson, Denita Haslett, Anne Lafleur, Beverley Mellett, Joy Macdougall, Anne Semple, Montreal; Marian Macdougall, Saragway; Niky Papachristidis, Westmount.

Nova Scotia — Diana Morris, St. John's.

Sally Ross, Halifax; Valerie Davies, Kentville.

Debutantes being presented July 1 are:

British Columbia — Wendy Andrews, Barbara Dobson, Vancouver.

Alberta — Heather Martyn, Judith Tweddie, Edmonton.

Saskatchewan — Edith Taylor, Frenchman Butte.

Ontario — Susannah Cannell, Susan Cassels, Virginia Dunn, Beverley Haywood, Elizabeth Jennison, Marie Munro, Anne Proctor, Carolyn Raymond, Sandra Seagram, Cynthia Slaughter, Mary Thomas, Nancy Vanstone, Toronto; Carol Beatty, Jane Charters, Brampton; Katherine Cartwright, Mary Davis, Mary Evans, Kingston; Gillian Foster, Willowdale; Miranda Davies, Kathryn Magee, Peterborough; Ann McDonald, Petrolia; Norah Smith, Thornhill; Mary Tieman, Don Mills; Patricia Mullin, Dundas.

Quebec — Carolyn Hayes, Jill Jenkins, Brenda Keddie, Montreal; Bonnie Miller, Baie Comaueau; Kathleen Stanford, St. Laurent.

Seaway Valley Gets Face Washed, Lifted

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
CORNWALL, Ont. (CP) — Seaway valley is getting its face washed and lifted today.

A controlled flood, unleashed early Tuesday by a 31-ton nitro blast of a rock dam in the St. Lawrence River here, is submerging this rolling, gentle countryside settled first 174 years ago by United Empire Loyalist soldiers.

A ghost land of 38,000 acres is to form a 100-square mile lake that will be a headpond for a 1,164,000 kilowatt hydro-electric dam.

PUSHED BUTTON
Dr. Otto Holdep, 67, chief engineer for Ontario Hydro, poked a button at 9 a.m. ADT Tuesday to detonate 3,100 cans of powerful nitro buried in a 600-foot cofferdam.

The explosion, marked by twin spires of debris and smoke, ripped two holes in the cofferdam to launch the flood. Boulders shot 1,000 feet in the air.

Muddy water snaked 2½ miles to the high, curving powerdam just three miles west of downtown Cornwall, Ontario's 18th largest city. And then it began to back up. By nightfall, more than 12 feet of water covered formerly dry land.

Couple Reunited After 2,000-Mile Wild Goose Chase
ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP) — A 19-year-old girl who went on a 2,000-mile wild goose chase in an attempt to find her fiancé after he was reported injured in a traffic accident, was reunited with him Monday night when she arrived back at her home.

Marilyn Henry of nearby Merriton and Donald Montague, 25, of Calgary were to have been married last Saturday in Bethel Baptist Church here.

But Miss Henry received a phone call Wednesday from an unidentified man who said her fiancé had been hurt. He hung up before giving the location of the accident but she thought he said it was near the Ontario-Manitoba border.

She set off Friday for Fort Frances, Ont., 1,000 miles northwest, accompanied by her brother-in-law Ron Ballantyne. Meanwhile, Donald phoned Mrs. Ballantyne from Michigan, saying he was on his way back. The news was relayed when Miss Henry called from Fort Frances and she headed back.

STAYED AT FARM
Donald explained his car crashed in the United States and he and his brother, Walter, had been sheltered at a farm house near the Ontario-Minnesota border. A farmhand with a Swedish accent had driven 100 miles to phone his fiancée.

The brothers suffered only minor injuries but their car was wrecked. Donald thought his message had been delivered and did not worry.

The new wedding date has not yet been decided. The couple will wait until Miss Henry's mother is out of hospital, where she was admitted for treatment of diabetes.

ONE LARGEST IN WORLD
The Canadian National Exhibition, says the Book of Knowledge, is the largest annual exhibition in the world. It is held for two weeks in the Fall.

The flood began on Canada's birthday and will end on the independence anniversary of the United States, a symbolic gesture to the international seaway-power undertaking.

Shipping banned since Monday from the 35-mile area west of here will resume traffic July 4, using two U.S. locks near Massena, N.Y., to sidestep the powerdam and enter the power pool.

A Canadian lock at Iroquois, Ont., will lift ships back into the St. Lawrence River channel leaving Ontario.

PART OF SEAWAY
The trial of locks are part of the 135-mile St. Lawrence Seaway which is to be officially opened next year by the Queen and President Eisenhower.

The U.S. locks were to be dedicated in day-long ceremonies today.

Already drowned beneath more than 10 feet of floodwater are the Cornwall and Williamsburg canals — first started as tiny canoe channels more than a century ago.

MANY WATCH
Thousands watched the long-heralded flood that forced the movement of 6,500 people and seven old riverfront towns to higher land.

Sometime July 4, about 180,000,000 gallons of water will fill the new lake-as yet unnamed although Americans across the international border have dubbed it Lake St. Lawrence.

THIS IS JUST TOO MUCH FOR ANY PROUD PIGEON

COCKBURNSPATH, Scotland — (CP) — The ultimate disgrace, a trip home by train, has befallen a homing pigeon named Prunella, who apparently decided to run away to sea and be a sailor.

With her mate, Black Diamond, Prunella was taken to France from her home loft in Berwickshire for a race from the village of Doi, near St. Malo. Black Diamond headed straight home across the English channel and checked in an easy winner, covering the 450 miles in just over 12 hours.

But Prunella committed a 90-degree navigational error and flopped onto the deck of the United States freighter Chemical Exporter, about 600 miles west of Land's End.

The crew fed her, tied a message to her leg and let her go again. This time she lit in a garden at Farnborough, Kent, still 350 miles from home.

Prunella's new host traced her through ring markings and got in touch with her owners. Taking no further chances, they sent along her rail fare.

Restrict Travel by Foreign Diplomats

LONDON (AP) — The Chinese Communists clamped restrictions on travel by foreign diplomats Tuesday. There was no explanation for the action.

Radio Belgrade reported that foreign diplomats in Belgrade were notified they must get special passes to travel outside a radius of 12 miles.

The Yugoslav Communist party newspaper Borba reported recently there had been mass arrests on the Chinese mainland.

Several Western countries with embassies in China have disclosed sudden and unexplained disappearances of Chinese servants.
